

ANGEL FLIGHT
SOUTH CENTRAL

2025 ANNUAL REPORT

More than three decades ago, a dedicated group of men and women who were owners and pilots of General Aviation aircraft recognized an opportunity to make a meaningful impact within their local communities. During their discussions, they identified a critical and largely unmet need: individuals seeking medical care for cancer and other life-threatening illnesses often could not access necessary treatments close to home. In many cases, the specialized treatment required was only available at distant medical centers, posing a significant transportation challenge for patients and their families.

To address this pressing issue, these pilots came together to form Angel Flight South Central. They committed their time, expertise, and personal resources to bridge the gap in medical transportation. Volunteer pilots began utilizing their own aircraft and personally shouldering all expenses associated with these flights. By doing so, they provided patients with a critical lifeline—access to life-saving and life-changing medical care that would otherwise be out of reach.

Over the years, the reach and mission of Angel Flight South Central evolved in response to community needs. The organization broadened its services to include free air transportation not only for medical purposes but also for humanitarian and compassion support. This expansion enabled Angel Flight South Central to assist a wider range of individuals facing urgent and challenging circumstances.

Since its founding, Angel Flight South Central has made a profound difference in the lives of countless individuals. The organization has successfully completed more than 47,000 missions, providing transportation to 72,000 passengers. Through the dedication of its volunteer pilots and the generosity at the heart of its mission, Angel Flight South Central continues to offer hope and support to those in need.
